"The year 2021 is in our rearview mirror and we are front-facing forward into 2022. While we were able to continue to serve families last year with our various programs we were affected by materials shortages, surging cost increases of those materials when we could find them, labor shortages from subcontractors that we needed to help us build all the while limiting our volunteer build efforts to keep everyone as safe as possible during the pandemic. Our vision remains the same – everyone deserves a decent place to call home and we will remain steadfast in moving that vision forward in Summit County. We are humbled by our community and the support they continue to show us in serving families in need."

- Rochelle D. Sibbio, President & CEO

Rochelle D. Sibbio

"As we continue to forge ahead in uncertain times and strive to reach our "new normal," we appreciate the unwavering commitment of our local Habitat for Humanity community. All of you have remained flexible and worked hard toward our mission to bring people together to build homes, communities and hope. We are proud of Habitat's many accomplishments and thank you for partnering with us every step of the way."

Congratulations Habitat Homeowners!

"I literally have a new foundation, for this program has provided me a stronger foundation to be a better person not only for myself but for others in the community. Habitat has also given me the foundation to create magic, warmth, and new memories for not just myself, but others as well."

"Over time I have contributed to numerous organizations and causes. Nothing is as directly fulfilling nor rewarding personally as my contributions to Habitat for Humanity. Not only do I support Habitat financially, but I am also a loyal volunteer doing construction. I see the direct results of my financial contributions in the quality of the homes. And working on the homes allows me to frequently meet and work alongside the people purchasing the homes. Habitat truly helps people help themselves."

"Neighborhood Network has had a very strong year despite the restrictions COVID has introduced. Work has continued on Aging in Place and Invest Health initiatives in collaboration with SUMMA, the City, and other partners. The work of installing solar safety lights for residents has also continued successfully. The NN proposal to Kutoba for Boss Park creative redevelopment earned a $22,500 grant, coming in among the top 5 of more than 400 applications nationwide. NN continued and expanded its walk audit studies of Middlebury and University Park, teaming residents and university students for data collection and analysis. Outdoor meetings and events have been very successful in offering residents access to information, vaccinations, opportunities to help each other and to gain perspective on the changes taking place in our community. Virtual NN Monthly meetings were held for many months and were by necessity more informational than active. But we were fortunate to return to in-person monthly meetings in late Summer and Fall. Knitting stronger relationships between University Park and Middlebury, two of these meetings were held in Boss Park's mental health oasis and at the newly renovated Jewett Park where residents participated actively in discussions of restorative landscape as well as edible and medicinal plants. Presentations by LINKS Director, Yolanda Parker, and expert in urban food forests, Beth Vild, made these discussions possible. Further collaboration and trust-building played out at our final in-person NN Monthly meeting of 2021 where leadership from The Well shared their history and upcoming activity. This allowed everyone to advance understanding of and appreciation for their exciting work in Middlebury. In all, this year has been impressive even had it not been disrupted by a global pandemic!
